

ECS REGULATION

Draft revised Directive on the Security of Network and Information Systems (NIS2)

Source: Cullen International

The NIS2 proposal aims to tackle the limitations of the current NIS regime, as well as respond to changes in the cybersecurity threat landscape. The draft directive would significantly extend the scope of the current directive by adding new sectors such as telecoms, social media platforms and the public administration. [read more – subscription required].

TELCOS

Telecom Italia expands FTTH Network

Source: Broadband TV News

Telecom Italia (TIM) is undertaking an innovative cabling project in Bastia Umbra through its infrastructure operator FiberCop to bring Giga services to the city. [read more].

SPECTRUM

German Competition Authority Urges Regulator to stick with Spectrum Auctions despite Change in Law; Europe's approach to 3.8–4.2 GHz has Big Implications for the C-band

Source: Policy Tracker

German competition advisory body the Monopolkommission has urged the German regulator to use spectrum auctions despite a recent change in the telecoms law that means they are no longer the first choice for licence awards. [read more – subscription required].

SATELLITE COMMUNICATIONS

UK Regulator introduces new Licensing Approach for LEO Satellites despite Industry Criticism

Source: Policy Tracker

UK regulator Ofcom has introduced new licensing requirements for operators of non-geostationary orbit (NGSO) satellite systems. These changes affect operators of low earth orbit (LEO) satellites, who are involved in a significant and growing market. [read more – subscription required].

DIGITAL SERVICES

76% of Brits willing to adopt Digital IDs

Source: Total Telecom

Okta research finds that digital verification could be on the horizon, but the government and private sector both have a responsibility to protect consumer data. [read more].

ENVIRONMENT SUSTAINABILITY IN THE POSTAL SECTOR

ERGP presents Conclusions on the Impact of the Green Deal on the Postal Sector

Source: Cullen International

Sustainable measures promoted through the EU Green Deal, such as the decarbonisation of the transport sector, energy efficiency and the circular economy, will have an impact on the delivery sector. [read more – subscription required].