BEREC sees no need to add a Wholesale Market for Access to Physical Infrastructure to the List of Relevant Markets

Source: Cullen International

BEREC does not consider it to be “appropriate” to add a wholesale market for access to physical infrastructure to the list of markets susceptible to ex ante regulation because it will oblige NRAs to carry out a market analysis with little or no benefit to them [read more – subscription required].

Regulatory Treatment of Very High Capacity Networks: too unclear and too prescriptive?

Source: Cullen International

Regulators, bankers and industry representatives were critical about certain elements of the European Electronic Communications Code, in particular regarding the concept of very high capacity networks (VHCN) [read more – subscription required].
