

REGULATION

Hundreds of new Local Digital Radio Stations could start broadcasting in the UK from next year

Source: Ofcom

Hundreds of new local digital radio stations could start broadcasting in the UK from next year, under proposals outlined by Ofcom [read more].

SPECTRUM

Demand remains stagnant as Europe struggles to award 26 GHz

Source: BBC

The director of spectrum at Sweden's regulator, Jonas Wessel, who also chairs the EU advisory body the Radio Spectrum Policy Group (RSPG), told delegates at the 14th Annual European Spectrum Management Conference that there was "very limited demand" for the 26 GHz range [read more].

European Connected Car Arm Wrestle swings in favour of 5G

Source: Telecoms.com

The European bureaucracy is trying to pick a winner between competing connected car technologies and inevitably it's taking ages [read more].

ECOMMERCE

Towards a European Digital Services Act/Code?

Source: Cullen International

The European Commission is working on a potential new legislative instrument that would establish a general EU regulatory framework for digital services, "in particular for online platforms." [read more – subscription required].