

5G

5G Disinformation: It's time to tell the Truth

Source: Euractiv

There are many myths concerning 5G networks and electromagnetic fields. The vast majority of them stem from a lack of proper knowledge. Europe should dispel the doubts of the people who are looking for answers. [\[read more\]](#).

5G Advances in Spain

Source: Advanced Television

Orange will start its 5G launch in September in five Spanish cities – Madrid, Barcelona, Valencia, Sevilla and Malaga – becoming the second Spanish telco after Vodafone to provide such services, according to Expansión. [\[read more\]](#).

BROADBAND

Study: UK Consumers want Faster Broadband after Lockdown

Source: Advanced Television

Research into the changing habits of 2,000 UK consumers by consulting and IT services specialist NTT DATA UK shows that the Covid-19 lockdown has put connectivity front of mind for the UK population, leading to a surge in demand for better telecommunications infrastructure post-lockdown. [\[read more\]](#).

CONSUMER

Double Play dominates in Poland

Source: Broadband TV News

Polish consumers show a strong preference for double play bundled packages. [\[read more\]](#).

NETWORK INFRASTRUCTURE

Nokia, Ericsson and Huawei Dominance beginning to fade – Analyst

Source: Telecoms.com

Market share estimates from TrendForce suggest challengers to trio of dominant network infrastructure vendors are beginning to gain traction. [\[read more\]](#).

GREEN CREDENTIALS

DPD to Deliver 24 Hours a Day with Electric Vehicle Collaboration

Source: Post & Parcel

Volta Trucks, the Scandinavian start-up full-electric vehicle manufacturer, will soon start a pilot test of its forthcoming Volta Zero with UK delivery company, DPD. [\[read more\]](#).

SPECTRUM

How Ofcom has enabled Innovation through Spectrum Sharing

Source: Ofcom

Last year Ofcom published a decision to support local connectivity requirements by opening up airwaves (spectrum) previously only available for certain services for shared use. [\[read more\]](#).

POST

Portugal: No Justification to increase International Prices despite Higher Terminal Due

Source: Cullen International

ANACOM, the Portuguese postal regulator, decided on 23 July 2020 not to approve revised prices for international universal postal services. [read more – subscription required].

Deutsche Post Launch Postal Mail Notification Service in Germany

Source: Post & Parcel

A collaboration between e-mail providers, GMX and WEB.DE, and Deutsche Post will allow customers to find out which letters will be arriving later in the day. [read more].

ECOMMERCE

27% of Europeans will keep Shopping Online more

Source: eCommerce News Europe

Over a quarter of European consumers will remain shopping more than they did before the coronavirus broke out. And 56 percent buy online three or more products per month during the corona crisis. [read more].