French Experts consider the Future of the Upper 6 GHz Band at ANFR Workshop

The RSPG's recent "Opinion" on the upper 6 GHz band loomed large at a recent workshop organised by the French spectrum agency ANFR. The Wi-Fi and mobile sectors have been vying for access to the upper 6 GHz band roughly since 2020, when the US allocated the full band (5945-7125 MHz) to Wi-Fi. Policy Tracker (read more – subscription required)

DEVELOPMENTS IN THE POSTAL SECTOR

Danish Postal Service to stop delivering Letters after 400 years

PostNord's decision to end service on 30 December comes after fear over 'increasing digitalisation' of Danish society. The Danish postal service will deliver its last letter on 30 December, ending a more than 400-year-old tradition. The Guardian (read more)

Consumer Scotland urges Ofcom not to scrap Price Cap for Second-Class Stamps

Consumer Scotland is urging regulator Ofcom not to scrap the current price cap on Second-Class stamps amid proposals that could see it weakened or removed. Ofcom is currently reviewing the affordability of postal services and has proposed a new targeted scheme to ensure people on low incomes can continue to access the postal service. Post & Parcel (read more)

BIPT consults on the Deployment and Use of Parcel Lockers

BIPT, the Belgian postal regulator, is running a public consultation to determine whether regulatory action is needed to ensure efficient, fair and non-discriminatory access to the rapidly expanding parcel locker infrastructure in Belgium. Cullen International (read more – subscription required)

Belgian Regulator approves bpost's 2026 Retail Prices but flags limits of the Price-Cap System

BIPT, the Belgian postal regulator, validated bpost's proposed retail tariff increases for 2026. The regulator stated that the universal service provider's price increases complied with the legal principles of affordability, uniformity, transparency and non-discrimination. Cullen International (read more – subscription required)
